

Co-Vice President Nominee

Audrey Metcalf, Associate Director, Corporate Relations, Washington University in St. Louis

I have been a member of Washington University in St. Louis' Corporate Relations team since May 2012, and currently serve as its Associate Director. In this role, I oversee the identification, research, and management of corporate prospects, data, and donors for fundraisers and university leadership. I also head the team's stewardship efforts and represent organizational fundraising and external engagement units for the university's CRM. A native of St. Louis, I earned a Bachelor of Arts in anthropology with a minor in English from the University of Missouri–St. Louis.

As a member of NACRO for more than eight years, I have had the opportunity to volunteer on several committees. I currently serve on NACRO's Board of Directors as Member at Large, tasked with expanding the organization's educational offerings. I have been a member of the Benchmarking Committee since joining the organization and had the opportunity to serve as its Co-Chair and a member of the Board from 2020–2022. I also have served as a member of the Awards, Communications, and Strategic Planning Committees, and led an ad hoc Policies & Procedures Committee. In 2023, I received NACRO's "Volunteer of the Year Award" for my work on the Benchmarking and Communications Committees, Strategic Planning Committee, and helping rewrite NACRO's by-laws and policies.

I cannot begin to describe how valuable NACRO has been for both my professional and personal development. Something you often hear upon joining is that getting involved with a committee is one of the best ways to get the most out of the organization, and it is absolutely true. Heeding this advice, I've had the opportunity to serve as a member and leader of multiple committees and believe this diverse volunteer experience provides me with a unique perspective and skillset to ensure NACRO remains a premier organization for corporate relations professionals. I'm honored to be nominated for Co-Vice President and greatly appreciate the opportunity to serve the NACRO membership in such an impactful role.
